Overview

The €100M project, led by Baltic Storage Platform, will deliver some of Europe's largest battery storage complexes with a combined capacity of 200 MW and a total storage capacity of 400 MWh, putting Estonia in the best spot for efficient energy use. Why is Estonia building a Battery Park?

Estonia has initiated construction of what will be the largest battery park in Europe that will significantly contribute to the synchronization of the Baltic power grids with Europe by 2025: this project of Evecon, Corsica Sole and Mirova will enhance the energy security and will boost renewables in Estonia.

Should Estonia invest in battery parks?

Estonia's investment in large-scale battery parks highlights its strategic push for both energy independence and a more sustainable power grid. However, battery parks do have environmental impacts.

Will Estonia & Latvia re-integrate their electricity networks with Europe by 2025?

The project, aimed at preparing Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania to integrate their electricity networks with European ones by 2025 and thus shaking off their reliance on the Russian grid. Planned battery storage park of 200 MW and 400 MWh of storage capacity equivalent to 90 000 households' energy.

Why is energy storage important for Estonia?

Energy storage is also critical for the ability of Estonia to achieve zero-emission levels for electricity generation by 2030.

Where is the Baltic storage platform based?

The project is in Kiisa, near Tallinn, though the Baltic Storage Platform's members are Estonian energy firm Evecon, French solar generator Corsica Sole and sustainable finance management firm Mirova.

How has the transition to a 15-minute balancing period impacted Estonia's energy storage?

State-owned energy company Eesti Energi management board member Kristjan Kuhi recently highlighted to Energy-Storage.news Premium that the transition to a 15-minute balancing period and the desynchronisation of the Baltic electricity system from the Russian grid have spurred growth in Estonia's energy storage sector.
