Overview

Are lithium battery Startups India's next Unicorns?

“Lithium battery startups are India’s next unicorns. Get in now!” EV battery manufacturing isn’t just another business. It’s your chance to power the next generation of clean energy in India. With a growing ₹2.5 lakh crore market, rising domestic demand, and abundant government support, 2025 is your moment.

Does India still import lithium batteries?

And here lies a surprising fact: India still imports nearly 80% of its lithium batteries. Only 20% are manufactured locally, a figure that, according to an IBEF report (October 2024), has shocked policymakers and innovators alike. The same report projected that India’s clean energy market is set to hit $250 billion (₹2.5 lakh crore) by 2030.
